Talk With Our Kids About Money (TWOKAM)

On April 16, 2015, The Canadian Foundation for Economic Education (CFEE) hosted an online learning opportunity for students and their families to talk and learn more about financial literacy. The site <http://talkwithourkidsaboutmoney.com/> has information and learning opportunities for junior high students. Financial literacy is a topic that is going to be aligned with new learning opportunities in the near future and this is an item you may want to share with your junior high principals.
